

2. It burns!

Burn

Patty the pig and her dad have been in the kitchen all morning.

They are cooking a delicious pie!

2

But Patty is a bit impatient... And she tries to take the pie out of the oven a little too early!

As soon as she touches the tray, she burns her hand!

Cut through the black line

In the waiting room of the Zoo-land hospital, Patty and her father meet Gafe the elephant!

Gafe is a very clueless animal. He went to the doctor because his head hurts...

Without realizing that a flowerpot had fallen on him!

5

Croco Doc tells Patty to soak the burn in cold water for ten minutes. Otherwise, the inside skin will keep burning!

Croco Doc examines Patty's paw. Blisters have appeared in the area that got burnt by the tray.

In addition, Croco Doc puts a special cream for burns, and then wraps the wound with a bandage.

Croco Doc gives the cream to Patty's dad.

He also gives them some instructions for the wound to heal better.

To thank Croco Doc, Patty draws him a picture and gives it to him the next time she goes to the hospital. Croco Doc loves it... And adds it to his collection!

A week later, Patty is left with only a scar of new skin. It doesn't hurt at all!

Patty has to be careful not to scratch her wound.

She also shouldn't peel off the scab when it appears.

In addition, she has to make sure that the scar is well protected from the sun for an entire year.

This way, there will be no mark!
