Before the vaccine, Croco Doc measures and weighs Danny. He is healthy for a bull his age.

9

Croco Doc notices that Danny is scared and tells him that there's nothing to worry about. Everyone has to get vaccinated and he will barely feel a thing.

It's recess time at school, but Danny the bull doesn't feel like playing.

He is feeling a bit anxious. Tomorrow he has to get a vaccine.

2

The next morning, Danny hides under his bed so he doesn't have to go to the doctor, but his dad finds him anyway!

3

In the waiting room, Danny and his dad see Jinx the elephant, and his friend Mr. Dog.

4

Jinx had a bungee jumping accident and unfortunately, he ended up falling on top of Mr. Dog!

That is why he's much more injured than Jinx.

Croco Doc also checks his pulse and breathing.

Everything looks good...although Danny's heart is racing because he's nervous!

Finally, it's time to get the vaccine! Danny closes his eyes because he's scared.

That's it? It was so fast and it didn't hurt at all!

Danny's dad tells Croco Doc that some parents don't want to vaccinate their children.

This can be very dangerous! Croco Doc is upset to hear this.

Croco Doc gives Danny a very special certificate of bravery.

Danny is super excited!

His friends are very excited and can't wait to get vaccinated so they can get a certificate too!

The next day at school, he proudly shows his friends his certificate.

It says that he was very brave!
