Cut through the black line

Rino and his friends are playing hide-and-seek in Zoolandia Park.

Rino starts running, but isn't paying attention where he's going.

He slams his head into a swingset pole. Ouch! His head really hurts and the cut is bleeding.

Croco Doc finishes the stitches in just a few minutes, and thanks to the special cream, Rino didn't feel anything!

Rino has to get stitches to close the deep cut. Croco Doc puts a special anesthetic cream on the wound. This cream will numb Rino's skin so that he won't feel any pain.

Rino's friends call Croco Doc right away. In a matter of minutes, Carla the gorilla arrives with the ambulance to take Rino to the hospital.

The first thing Croco Doc does is clean the cut with gauze, soap, and disinfectant.

The cut is pretty deep, so he makes sure there isn't anything inside it.e.

She got there so fast!

He then gives him some disinfectant to take home and a pain medicine.

He will have to wait awhile for the cut to heal completely.

It's very important not to get the wound wet while it heals.

Rino's friends came to visit him at the hospital...but isn't someone missing?

Rino will always look where he's going from now on.

With his new helmet, no swinget will ever stand in his way again!

Has anyone seen Nico the chameleon?

He must still be hiding in the park!
