Cut through the black line

Bea is eating dinner, but she is feeling a little anxious because she has a check-up tomorrow.

She doesn't understand why she has to go to the doctor if she is not sick!

Her dad explains that sometimes it's better to go to the doctor even if you are not sick. That way, you can avoid getting sick.

Croco Doc and Crat are very kind to Bea and want her to feel comfortable. After all, a check-up is quick and painless!

Next, they talk about body mass index. BMI tells us if we are a healthy weight for our height and age.

First, Croco Doc uses a stethoscope to listen to Bea's heart and lungs.

The doctor visit wasn't that bad and now she knows that she is healthy.

Bea feels a lot better at dinner
tonight. She is proud of herself for being so brave.

It's important to have a healthy diet and live a healthy lifestyle.
Otherwise, Bea could end up looking like a big, round ball!

Croco Doc examines the inside of her mouth. Everything looks good!

He uses a board with big and small letters to check Bea's vision. It seems to be perfect!

Crat is in charge of weighing and measuring Bea. She has the correct BMI for a girl her age!
