

33. The pee problem

Urinary infection

Bea can't stop going to the bathroom.

She feels the urge to pee, but when she sits on the toilet, nothing comes out...

2

Mr. Dog takes her to the hospital because it's been several days like this.

Bea explains to Croco Doc that every time she tries to pee, it doesn't come out, and it hurts!

It's time to examine it!

A while later, Bea has managed to produce a bit of urine.

9

After examining the area, Croco Doc tells Bea to pee in a jar.

This way, they can figure out what the problem is.

Mr. Dog had to go to the pigs house to take a shower!

12

The worst part is that, as Bea has been using the bathroom so much these past few days...

After running a test, Croco Doc is certain:

Bea has a urinary tract infection!

8

Bea will have to take an antibiotic syrup once a day to eliminate the bacteria causing the infection.

9

It's also crucial that she drinks plenty of water and doesn't hold back the urge to go to the bathroom!

10

Furthermore, to prevent future infections, Croco Doc explains to Bea that every time she goes to the toilet, she should wipe from front to back.
