

49. The Super-Virus

Measles

Bruno is devastated... His little cousins are coming to visit, and he's going to have to take care of them! They're a disaster, and they always break his toys.

2

But Bruno isn't feeling well. He has a runny nose, a cough, and his body hurts. His father is skeptical... Could it be an excuse to avoid babysitting his cousins?

However, the next morning it's clear. Bruno has developed spots all over his body.

That's definitely not something he made up!

4

How strange.

Bruno's mom says he's vaccinated, but Croco Doc checks his records and it says otherwise.

7

Seeing the symptoms, Croco Doc puts on a mask.

It looks like Bruno has some contagious disease.

5

Indeed.

After noticing spots in his mouth too, Croco Doc is certain.

It's measles!

Oh no, his fine china vases!

Since Bruno is still sick, he won't be able to take care of his cousins...

So, it's Mr. Horse's turn!

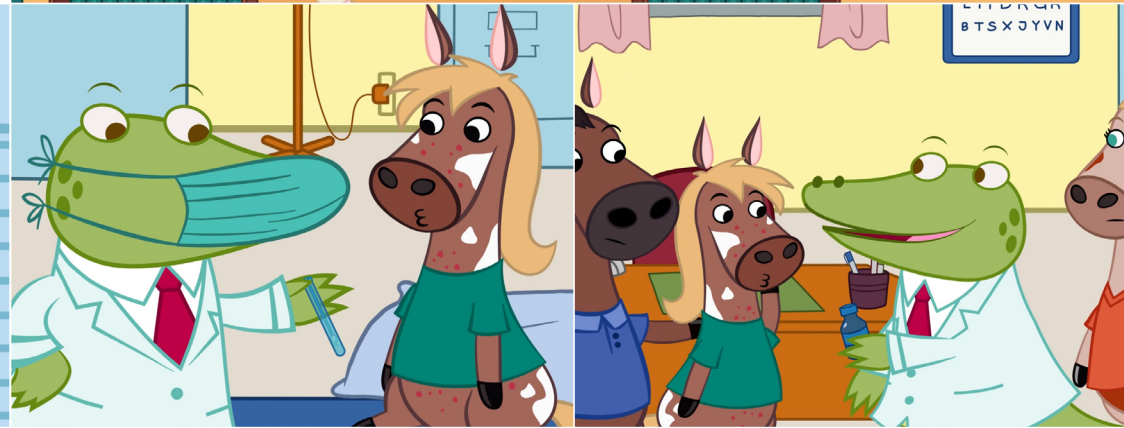

12

The guilty Mr. Horse confesses.

He believed the vaccine wasn't necessary...

So he had taken Bruno to the amusement park instead!

Croco Doc collects a mucus sample just in case, and the result is confirmed in the laboratory.

It is undoubtedly measles.

As it is a virus, Bruno will have to wait for the symptoms to pass.

A syrup for fever can be prescribed, he must drink a lot and take vitamin A.
